

2023 Clarendon Fund Scholarships for International Students at University of Oxford

The Clarendon Fund offers around 140 full scholarships every year to academically excellent graduate students from all around the world. Clarendon Scholarships are awarded on the basis of academic excellence and potential across all degree-bearing subjects at graduate level at the University of Oxford.

The scholarships cover tuition and college fees as well as a generous grant for living expenses, and all graduate applicants who apply for study at the University by the January deadline, in their respective year of entry, will be automatically considered for this prestigious scholarship funding.

The University of Oxford is a collegiate research university in Oxford, England. There is evidence of teaching as early as 1096, making it the oldest university in the English-speaking world and the world's second-oldest university in continuous operation. It grew rapidly from 1167 when Henry II banned English students from attending the University of Paris. After disputes between students and Oxford townsfolk in 1209, some academics fled north-east to Cambridge where they established what became the University of Cambridge. The two English ancient universities share many common features, are jointly referred to as Oxbridge. Both are ranked among the most prestigious universities in the world.

Eligibility criteria

- You must be applying to start a new graduate course at Oxford. This includes students who are currently studying for a master's degree at Oxford but who will be re-applying for a DPhil (you would be eligible for funding for the DPhil).
- You must be an international student. (Outside the UK/non-UK citizens)
- You must be fluent in English Language

Eligible Countries: ALL

Type: Masters, PhD

Number of Scholarships: Not Specified (Several)

Value of Award: All Clarendon Scholarships cover tuition and college fees in full and a generous grant for living expenses.

Duration of Scholarships: Clarendon Scholarships are offered for the full period that you are liable to pay tuition fees to the University, which is usually the same as the length of your course.

Method of Application: Apply by the December or January deadline, whichever is relevant to your course, to be considered for a Clarendon scholarship.

Application Deadline: The closing date is in January 2023; dependent on the course of study.

Link: Information for applicants | University of Oxford